SIT DOWN STRIKES

Of recent years many changes have taken place in methods of industry, style of architecture, and strike one ever dreamed that the old orthodox strike method would have changed.

Well, this is exactly what has happened and instead of workmen banding up their tools and walking out following the decision of the organization to go on strike, they now sit down and refuse to leave the place.

It seems that the French workers were the first to adopt the new method. The idea was to sit down and will no doubt be the policy of workers in the future, providing that they are permitted to keep on sitting down.

Readers of this column, were you ever in a strike? I mean a real protracted strike. The writer was, and being in a rather reminiscent mood, I will endeavor to recall and set down my impressions.

The strike which I have in mind is the one known to old-time printers as "The Eight-Hour Strike." Previous to this strike nine hours a day was the time set. I was not very old at the time and the strike was my first experience.

If one wants to know human nature, one should go through a strike. I learned by this experience that everyone will not react the same although all members of the union take the same serious obligation to abide by the will of the majority.

I was working in Chicago at the time when the word came that negotiations had failed and in a few minutes we were out on the street. And thus began a strike which lasted for a year and cost several millions.

I recall that the chairman of the union in our office "rattled" that he was staying in, but down so to speak. The chairman of the union is a man appointed by the printers of a plant to act for the union in seeing that no one is allowed to work who does not carry a card in the union.

Now it so happened that this gentleman was so enthusiastic over the union that he even disgusted good union men. When this fellow "rattled" it was my first big disappointment in human nature.

There was another timid soul who almost seemed to give a shiver in the arm to get him out. The foreman of this particular plant also showed the white feather and refused to take the union men.

I had a similar experience in the city of Winnipeg. There, too, I saw men deliberately violate their obligation and refuse to "take the air."

After that and other experiences I have come to the conclusion that there is such a thing as the fighting heart. There is such a thing as red blood.

The fellow with the proper blood in his veins when he takes an obligation will live up to it and fight it out to the bitter end. Worker members go to the quarter and drop out. Others fall by the wayside at the half and three-quarter points, and only the fellows with the fighting heart, with the blood with plenty of red corpuscles, will push to the end.

I remember being in the Labor Hall at Edmonton one afternoon when the teachers' strike was on. A teacher, one of those timid souls, stepped up to a union man and said: "What do you think we should do? You have done it, haven't you?" replied the union man, who added: "Do you consider that you were justified in going on strike?" The answer being in the affirmative, the teacher union man said: "Then stick to your guns."

The above type of man would be liable to drop out at the first quarter point, if he even got that far. It is only under stress that the real fighters come to the fore.

In conclusion I would like to say a few words on the folly of strikes, which are disastrous to employees and industry. Strikes have occurred because there has never been any real machinery set up to adjust differences between employers and employees.

Arbitration boards, speaking generally, have proven a failure, for the reason that the chairman of such a board has no knowledge of the industry.

As the writer sees it there is but one solution to the problem, and that is to set up machinery within the industry. Some day there will be all differences. Under such a system the men on the board would be all conversant with the industry and should be in a position to come to some intelligent decision.

A representative in the office would be greatly aided in ironing out disagreements. As it is now figures are presented to the men, who are not in a position to agree or disagree with the statement.

If there were a representative in the counting house, he could O.K. the figures and those suspicions would be eliminated.

THE COOLING OFF PROCESS

While writing my way Along The Trail the other day, hoping that something exciting might happen or that I might stumble across a lead or the coin of the realm, I would be unable to find the owner. I picked up the following story, which is told by a man noted for his integrity and

VALHALLA CENTRE

WEATHER SPOILS ATTENDANCE

VALHALLA CENTRE, Mar. 22—Cold wind blowing from the east and snow falling steadily all day, made a sorry sight for the Centre. Only a few players last Friday as they presented their play, "Everyone's Getting Married."

Very few other than the local people turned out, making an audience of only about thirty. It is hoped that if the coming Saturday players bring a larger, more appreciative audience.

GOOD TIME AT ROYAL BANNER

A number of Centre people went out to Royal Banner, Saturday night, where a chicken supper was under way.

The guests were then entertained by a short concert, the big item of which was a play called "The Obstinate Family." The play was also under the direction of the teacher and the cast included Mrs. Lloyd Tordella, Miss Harriet Melness, Miss Marlene Lee, Harold Wilson, Harry Krantz and Alva Severen.

The school-house was filled to capacity and the net receipts totaled over forty dollars. This being the first social function of the district, they are well to a good start. It is understood the money is to be put aside toward purchase of a musical instrument in the future.

MISSION BAND'S BIG DAY, APRIL 3

The Mission Band boys and girls, after a busy winter, are about to have the sale of their fine band and entertainment on April 3. A rocking chair and doll, the workmanship of the boys of the band, will be raffied. All in all, April 3 will be a day in which the boys and girls will see the results of a winter's work that has really been fun.

Word was received that Mr. Lohrenz's condition is beginning to show signs of improvement. Last week his face was so swollen that he could neither see nor speak, and the erysipelas had begun to spread. However, he is now able to sit up a little and his face is beginning to resume its natural proportions.

The people for the Centre are welcoming back their neighbors as the Tappan family move back to their old residence next week. During the past few years the Tappans have been living near Homestead school-house, as they grew up their land there.

HINTON TRAIL

FUNERAL OF LITTLE LESTER SANDERSON HELD SATURDAY

HINTON TRAIL, Mar. 22.—The first item this week is necessarily a very sad one. After a lingering illness Lester Sanderson journeyed on to the "far country."

The funeral was held at Haintout Saturday, March 20, and the attendance was a tribute to the high esteem in which Lester was held by his many friends.

Lester had undergone an operation for appendicitis from which he never recovered.

News of Lester's death came as a shock to his many school friends, who could hardly realize that their popular little pal had really passed to the Great Beyond.

Lester's sunny disposition and winning personality had won for him a host of friends amongst his contemporaries. With one voice we all lament the loss of a friend, and yet with just as unanimous an agreement we should regard the enviable esteem in which he was held as an ideal for us to attain as we too cross the inevitable bar.

CLUB QUILT FINISHED

The ladies of the Craigellachie Community Club completed their quilt last Saturday. Tickets are being sold on the selling of it for fifteen cents. They might be obtained from any of the members.

MANY ATT'ND EASTER SERVICE

The Easter service last Sunday was well attended at Craigellachie and Rev. Geo. A. Shields' sermon was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Z. F. Smith sang a sacred solo, accompanied by Mrs. Moss, that was very fine.

Mr. Shields is to be complimented on not only his sermon but his well-known punctuality. His ability to always fulfil his appointments, on horseback, if necessary, is an item that appeals to his hearers. We feel indeed fortunate to have a man of Mr. Shields' calibre for our pastor.

Interesting News From Sexsmith

Vol. V, No. 40 R. A. MACLE'D March 25, 1937

MIXED BONSPIEL OVER—

ANOTHER ONE STARTS

The Mixed Bonspiel is over, and all evidently had a good time. With the possible exception of a few of the lady leads, who unfortunately started their curling careers in very tough ice, and were laid up for a few days with very sore muscles. However, the ice improved considerably before the "spilled end", but as the old saying goes—"A burnt child dreads the fire," so it was a case of "never again" with them.

This bonspiel was what is called a knock-out game, those being defeated went to the left and the winners to the right. As usual in curling, when you get trimmed, you generally figure out that there was something wrong somewhere, and if you had just another go at it that the result would be much different. So to give those fellows a chance to see if their theory will work out, another mixed bonspiel started Tuesday night with the risks having a new personnel.

WEDDING BELLS TO RING

AT LEAST FOUR TIMES

In springtime a young man's fancy turns to love, and in the case of reports there will be a number of weddings in town within the next few weeks. We know of four young birds who have decided to take the plunge. We tell you they are when the events take place.

VICTIM OF MEASLES IN LUCK

The odd case of measles is still in our midst, the latest victim being Mr. Robert Smith, millwright at the grocery. Bob, however, is in good hands, having a trained nurse to take care of him.

Do not forget that the Canadian Legion expects to stage a dance at the New Hall, Sexsmith, on Friday, April 9, "Vimy Day." For further particulars watch the columns of this paper.

SEXSMITH PARAGRAPHS

The Ladies Aid of the United Church will hold a tea in the store just immediately north of the Sexsmith Supply on Saturday, March 27, at 3 p.m.

Miss Loren Burns, who has been visiting at McEwen for the winter, arrived home on last Friday's train.

Mr. Don Innes and Mrs. Urethach were passengers on Tuesday's train, having been in Edmonton for the past week or ten days.

The hockey dance held at the New Hall on Wednesday last was quite a success, there being a good crowd present. The Prairie Orchestra supplied the music.

ARRIVAL OF NEW CITIZENS

A few new citizens arrived at Sexsmith within the last few weeks, as follows:

To Mr. and Mrs. C. Varden, Sexsmith, on February 20, a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rolstad, Ladace, March 2, a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. H. Hargard, La Glace, March 2, a girl.

To Mr. and Mrs. Glendinning, Teepee Creek, March 17, a girl.

To Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Gorman, Sexsmith, March 17, a girl. This last one was some link for Tommy, giving him some excuse to celebrate St. Patrick's Day with a vengeance.

DANCE AT NORTH SEXSMITH

MEMBER WARNS OF DANGER

AT LEVEL RLY. CROSSINGS

Greater care on the part of motorists at level crossings was urged by Dr. J. L. Robinson, M.I.A. for Medicine Hat, when speaking in the Alta. Legislature a few days ago.

The speaker drew attention to the fact that each year a number of lives are lost or other public service vehicles to come to a dead stop at railway crossings. He suggested that the government might well give some heed to this legislation and exercise every care upon approaching a crossing.

Dr. Robinson quoted official figures in showing that in the 10-year period 1927 to 1936, 212 people had been killed and 117 injured at crossing accidents in this province. Estimated damage to trucks or cars was put at $42,057 and to railway property $596.

One of the points brought out was the necessity of having trucks loaded with inflammable or explosive stock come to a stop at crossings. It was reported that four of these accidents occurred in Alberta in 1935. In Manitoba a similar type of accident resulted in deaths of the engineer and fireman of the train, and the truck driver.

Yearly, the Alberta Motor Association has impressed upon the public the need of adopting a vigorous campaign to reduce the number of level crossings in this province.

some good Irishmen. The Colleen

it, at least if it wasn't the girl that went to their head, it must have been something else. Perhaps the true spirit of giving to a worthy cause, which was very much appreciated.

The Hospital Board takes this opportunity to thank all who so willingly helped to make this a financial suc-

The bazaar was a success and the

GORDONDALE

AT LONG LAKE

GORDONDALE, Mar. 22.—The school meeting was held by schedule at Mr. H. Kirkness' residence and after six years of the school parties a district was formed and an-

the vote was taken. The meeting was relatively for a school.

The following were nominated as followers: A. Michel, three years; M. McKee, two years; and Mrs. W. Chapman, one year. They were the committee appointed previously and so it is only after their diligent efforts that they should be chosen to pilot the school-ship on its maiden voyage.

The data they have on hand leads us to believe that with the government grant, the tax per assessable parcel will be approximately five dollars. Which should not give much cause for anyone to object to the cost.

Grain hauling is practically done

WESTERN CANADA SUFFERS FROM ONE OF COLDEST WINTERS

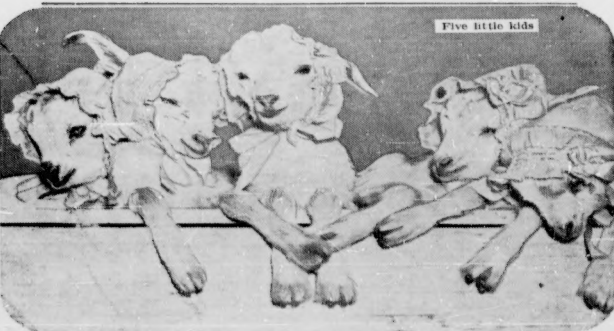

While Canadians in Southern Ontario and Toronto have been enjoying one of the mildest winters in years, Western Canada has experienced one of the coldest on record. The snowfalls have been particularly heavy in the West during the last three months. This picture, taken near Regina, shows the huge blanket of snow which covers the prairie and turns them into areas of desolation. Some of the drifts are twenty feet high, but this doesn't worry the farmers, who are rejoicing because of promise of good spring moisture, particularly in south-eastern Saskatchewan, where there are so many dry areas.

View of ice-choked basin

NIAGARA FALLS LOOKS LIKE ROCK CANDY MOUNTAIN

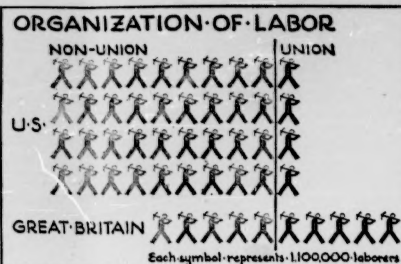

This striking view of Niagara Falls shows the basin of the mighty cataract so jammed with ice that it resembles a mountain of rock candy. Ice barriers so jammed up the American Falls that only a slight flow of water came through. Hard to believe, but true.

Five little kids

THESE QUINTUPLETS WERE BORN ON AN ARIZONA FARM

Callender, Ontario, hasn't a thing on Tucson, Arizona, since the arrival of quintuplets at the Atkins goat dairy. Here is the first picture taken of the five kids, all dressed up in baby bonnets for their photo. Only two kids are born at a time, usually, and records show few instances of quintuplets.

AMERICAN LABOR FIFTY YEARS BEHIND BRITAIN?

According to prominent officials in the Unions in the United States, the workers of America are fifty years behind their English cousins in the matter of organization of labor. LORD ANSON

A new portrait of Lord Anson, who as joint hereditary Lord Great Chamberlain, will have the distinction of serving the King and Queen when they are crowned. As a reward for services he will render, tradition dictates that his reward shall be a pair of King George's pajamas.
